BASEBALL

DEDICATED TO J. B. SEYMOUR

We humbly dedicate this the 1947 Elon High School Annual to one of whom the school, as a whole, was proud. Not only in athletics did he shine but in his studies and as an all around student.

J. B. was considered by many one of the greatest all around athletes this school has ever known. In his first high school year J. B. went out for baseball and basketball. In basketball his speed and defensive play helped lead the Elon boys to their county championship. During that year he set a new scoring record in a single game of twenty-eight points against Mabane. He was a star shortstop during baseball season and led the team in stolen bases. During his second year, 1946-1947, he was a member and star of the first football squad ever to represent Elon High on the gridiron. He was injured in the first game of the season but came back later to star in a 20-15 loss to Childran's Home, state champions in sixman football for the past three years.

He was awarded a letter and a trophy voted him by the squad for the best all around player of the year.

Basketball season rolled around and J. B. was deathly sick in Rex Hospital in Raleigh. Before the first ball game he was unanimously elected honorary captain for the year. He was named honorary captain of this year's baseball team.

Yes, J. B. was easily one of the greatest all around athletes Elon has ever known. There was a bright future ahead for James Bunyon Seymour before his death on December 13, 1946.

To him, "JB" as he was known, we proudly dedicate this annual, who served his school in a way that made us all proud of him.

Yes, gone but never forgotten in the hearts of Elon students and spectators.

Class Poem

We are the Class of Forty-Seven
Ready to earn our way to Heaven.
We are ready to start our lives to build
Our talents to use, and our places to fill.

We'll leave our Alma Mater behind;
We'll leave our teachers with patience kind.
It's time to don our caps and gowns;
It's time to lay our school books down.

Although we are happy to have reached our goal,
There is sadness at parting in every soul.
But we bid adieu to everyone
And continue the life which we've only begun.

Flower: Rose

Colors: Red and White

Motto:

Not finished but begun.

CLASS HISTORY

Four years ago in 1943 thirty-eight students entered the Freshman class of Elon High School, dreaming dreams that only freshmen are capable of dreaming. Our homeroom teacher was Mrs. M. W. Hook. The class officers were: President, Arthur Robertson; Vice-President, Homer Whiteker; Secretary, Eleie Jenkins; Treasurer, Teesie Zimmerman. We presented a one act play, "Rooting For Ruth". Our grade parents gave us a weiner roast at Elna Doris's house, and we entertained the senior class at a party.

In the year 1944-1945 Miss Reitzel was our homeroom teacher. Of course we felt our importance as sophomores. Well, it may be that "sophs" are not quite as big ignoramuses as they are given the credit of being. No doubt we felt green last year, but oh, what a difference this year! The class officers were: President, Ronnie Black; Vice-President, Carroll Peeler; Secretary, Teesie Zimmerman; Treasurer, Elna D. Huey. Our class enjoyed several parties at the Bur-Mil Club (remember C.M. getting wet), a picnic at Huffman's Country Home where boating, swimming and various other games were enjoyed. Our junior play, "Antics of Ann" and the Junior-Senior Banquet were given that year because at that time there was no twelfth grade.

Last year 1945-1946 Mrs. L. S. McDonald was our homeroom teacher. Class officers were: President, Carroll Peeler; Vice President, Ronnie Black; Secretary, Elna D. Huey; Treasurer, Betty Long. Our grademothers gave us a picnic at Guilford Battleground.

This year 1946-1947 Mrs. Earle Hardison was our homeroom teacher. Class officers were: President, Elna D. Huey; Vice-President, Betty Long; Secretary, Jean Moody; Treasurer, Betty Robertson. The class was very busy with school work and outside activities---football games at Chapel Hill, the senior play, the Junior-Senior banquet. How good it seemed to be entertained instead of entertaining!

And now, having the distinction of being the first class to graduate after the extra grade was inserted in the grammar grades, on the twenty-seventh day of May 1947 we receive our diplomas and bid farewell to all our high school associates.

CLASS PROPHECY

Class Prophet: Nash Parker

This is your ace newscaster, Noeey Parker, bringing you clues and views about the news. Before I begin on my on-the-spot human interest story, let me introduce Elmer. Say hello, Elmer. That's a right. Now be quiet!

Ladies and Gentlemen, we are in the ballroom of that famous new night club at Veterans Drive called "The Cement Mixer". Elmer, you can see the owner over there, the girl with all the jewels. That is Katy Lou Childreese. I'm sure some of my listeners remember Katy's pretty brown eyes. See that pretty girl up on the bandstand singing that new torch song, "The Bubble Dancer Wouldn't Give the Boys a Date", or "Sorry Boys, No Soap". And folks listen to that band! That pretty music we hear is by Clifford Sharpe and his High Highlanders, and the gal singing is his wife, the former Eleie Jenkins. As I recall Clifford was a regular dude in '47, in '57 he is sub-due.

Elmer, stop that! Oh! I see. Well I can't blame you - the girl you're looking at was quite a kid back in High School. She's the former Jean Moody. After she got out of school she started into architecture the easy way.

Boy! We've really got important people here tonight. There is Betty Jane Robertson, former star at Elon, who now owns and plays for the "Dizzy Dames" number one team in the country.

Next on the program are those two artists of comedy, the Mouth and the Hair-do, Frances Tuck and Mary Alice Watkins, giving us their interpretation of that new comedy hit, "Close the Door, Dora".

Excuse me folks. What did you say, Elmer? Oh! That's Kitty Apple and her husband. She just got in from Hollywood where she made the picture "Apple Blossom Time". Her husband wrote the script. Need I say more?

Elmer, do you see that woman talking to that man? She's Jane McClure, who runs the famous Detective Agency in New York, and whose slogan is "Don't watch your husband, let me watch him for you".

As most of you know Carroll Peeler and Tessie are Mr. and Mrs. now.

Carroll is a rich man. He discovered a new formula for cement while eating one of Teeie's biscuits.

The big handsome guy with the bass voice that is sitting at the ring-side table watching the floor show is Harrie Isley the famous radio actor. He's recognized by his opening remark "I'm feeling mighty low". He also plays all the parts in the "Johnson Family" now that Jimmy Scribner has retired.

The boy standing by the cash register is Ronnie Black. He decided to go to State. He has been there six years and will probably complete his freshman year this spring.

Elmer, if you feel sporty you can go to the back and gamble, but I'm warning you, you can't win. You'll be playing against the card shark of them all, Joe Hill. He always won everybody's money at school.

Oh! Yes, Elmer, before you try your luck I want to tell you about a couple of gals that aren't here tonight. I have their pictures right here. What's that Elmer? No, I don't blame you for whistling. That one with the dignified look is Elna Doris Huey and the one with the red hair is Betty Long. Elna Doris and Betty got interested in Church work at an early age and are missionaries in China. On second thought, don't go into the back, drop your money in that box by the door,-----that's the one with "Give to Missions" written on it. Bless you Elmer!

Now for my last two former classmates. They are those two healthy women sitting over there. See 'em. They were voted the most beautiful and healthiest women in America. They are Betty Truitt and Gilma Grey Burge. Gilma plans to get married soon as her boy friend, J. R. Carrstt, gets his line of drug store completed. Gilma and Betty are the sponsors of this show, incidentally, so let's have the commercial now. Their product is "Neon Bubbles" that wonderful new breakfast cereal that makes breakfast the lightest meal of the day. Think of it! Waking up each morning with those crisp crunchy, vitamin enriched bubbles. The kiddies love 'em too, so remember feed your husband Neon Bubbles and watch his face light up. Warning!! Don't go near electric wires after eating our product. The results might prove shocking!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Class of 1947 of the Elon College Public High School, being of sound mind and noble dispositions, do hereby take oath and solemnly declare in the presence of these witnesses that this is our last will and testament and may the Sun, Moon, and Stars shine brightly on our successors, so help us all, the Ghosts of all good Elonites:

We do give and bequeath without reservations whatsoever to the parties hereinafter named the following properties, to wit:

Betty Truitt consents to let Jeanette Brown take over her quiet manner.

Jean Moody has kindly bestowed her wavy hair to Anne Buckner.

Ronnie Black is breathless, so he surrenders his voice to Richard Wilson.

Betty Long bequeaths her popularity to an up-and-coming junior girl.

Carroll Peeler was leaving Teesie Zimmerman, but on second thought, came back to get her.

Jane McClure grants her argumentative ability to Opal Troxler.

Mary Alice Watkins leaves her friendly disposition to some deserving junior.

Harrie Isley bequeaths his sparkling personality to Ted May.

Edna Dorie Huey wills her leadership abilities to LaVern Calwell in hopes he will become President of the United States.

Nash Parker donates his "little red book" to some lonely "wolf".

Tessie Zimmerman gives her red checkered sport shirt to June Matkine.

Kitty Lowe bestows her "one man ways" to Bobbie Abernathy.

Gilma Burge lends her long locks to Doris Black.

Frances Tuck confers her poetic ability to Peg Clapp.

Elsie Jenkins wills her Yankee accent to Joanne Martin.

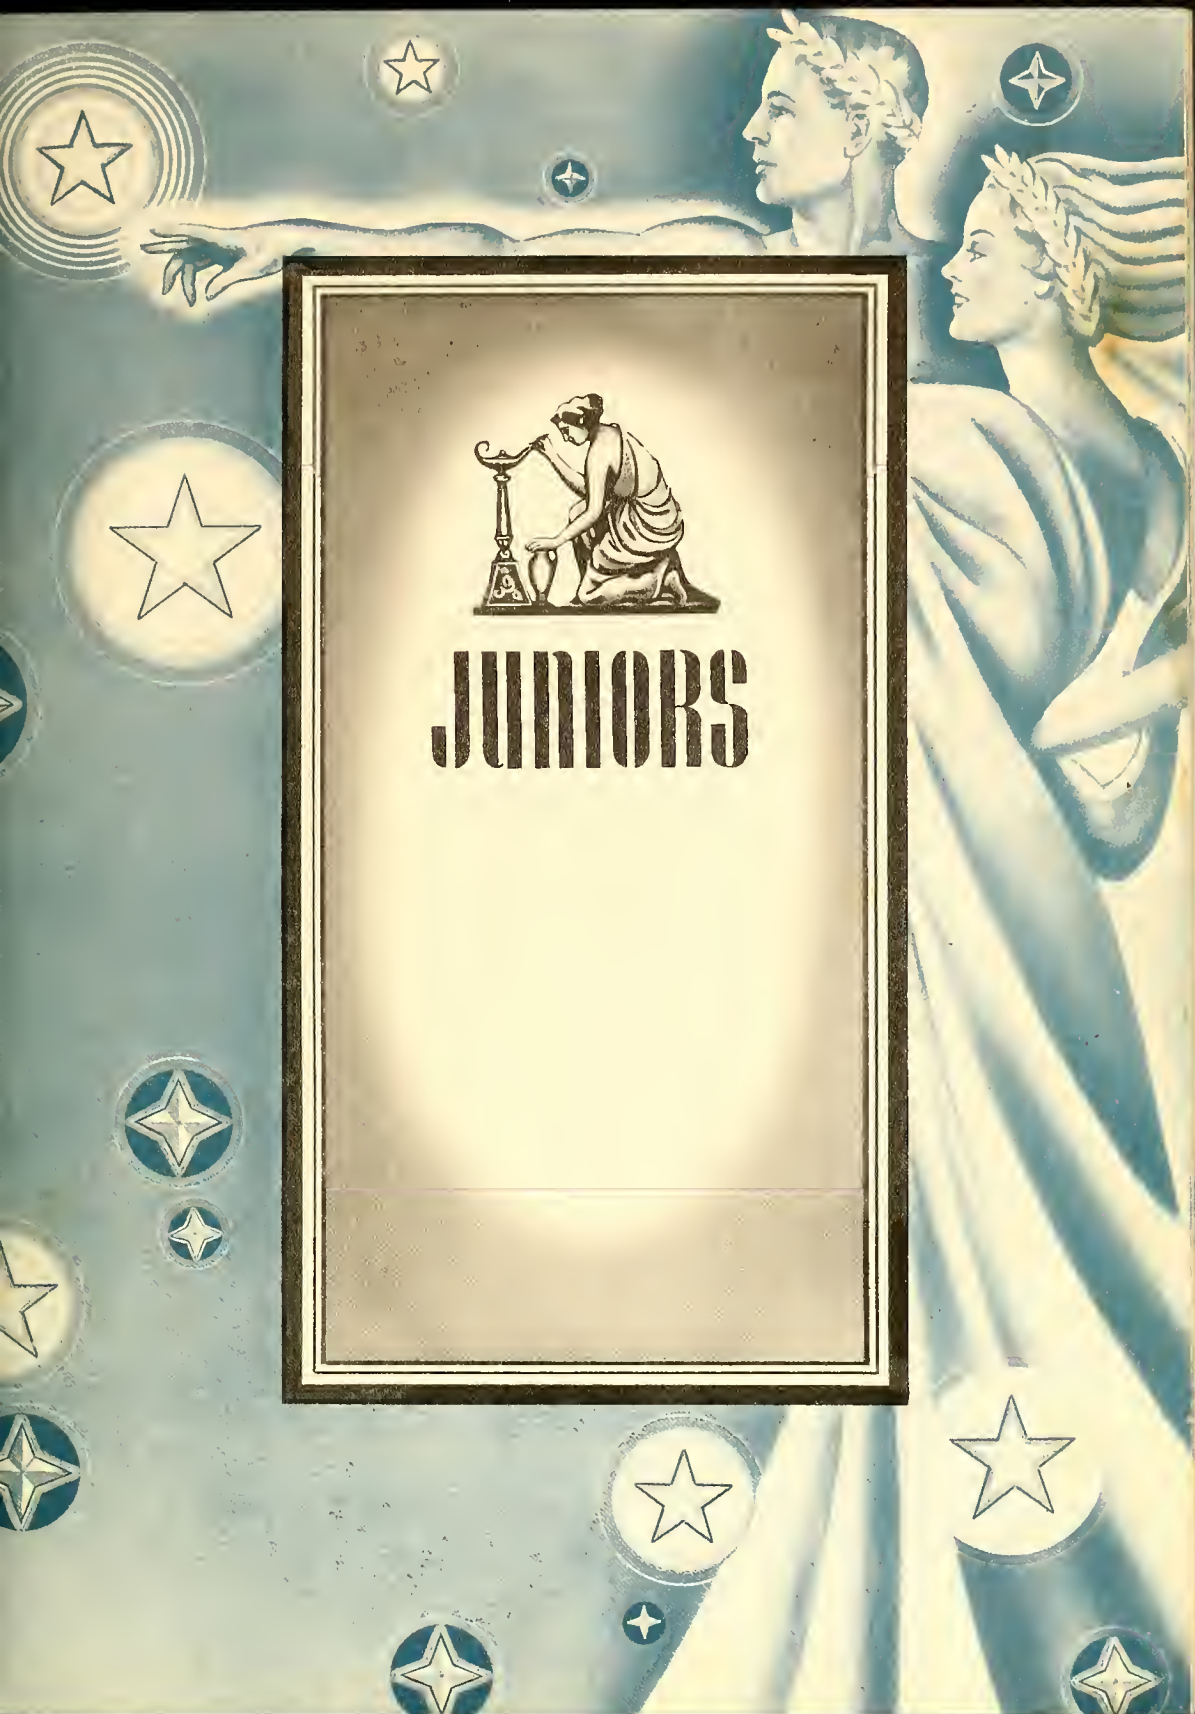

Betty Jane Robertson leaves her basketball suit to Norma Robertson.

Clifford Sharpe leaves his common sense to Thomas Dean.

Katie Lou Childress magnanimously leaves her wit to Max Isley.

The Senior room Senior rights, Senior privileges and the initiation of the Freshmen are left to the Juniors.

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL SEASON

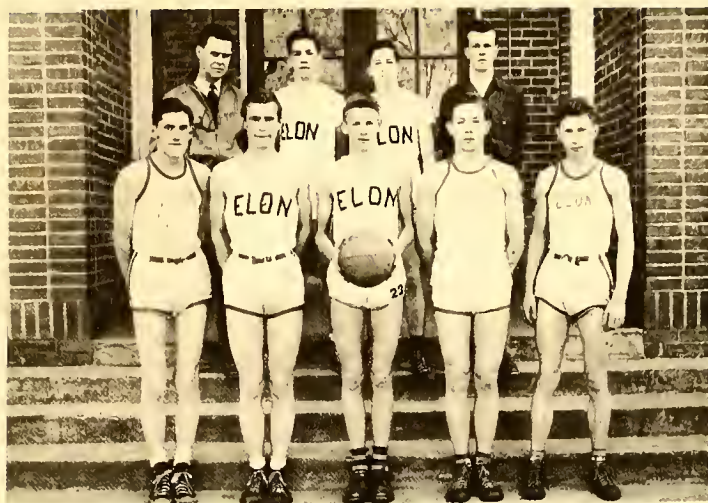

For the first time in the history of the school, Elon High was represented on the gridiron by a six-man football team. The squad, according to Coach Dick Stater, had the second best team in the state on paper. The season ended with a record of four wins and two losses.

In Carroll Pealar, Elon had one of the finest high school passers in the state. J. B. Seymour, voted the most outstanding and best all-around player, was first string quarterback when he was not on the injured list. Leon Loy was high scorer for the squad at one and position. Lester Moore held the other end down. Jimmy Braxton and Ronnie Black were a couple of hard-hitting canters. Nash Barker and Buddy Fogleman alternated at wingback. Harold Robertson was the hardest driving backfield man with a little under a ten-yard per try average. Clifford Sharpe played practically every position on the squad and held them down nicely. C. A. Ragon, Cooper Walker, and Eugene Waters rounded out the squad. Donald Layne did a grand job as manager. Following are the schedule and scores:

Elon 0	Robbins 33	*	Elon 30	Robbins 0
Elon 38	Curry 12	*	Elon 15	Laxington 20
Elon 65	Pilot 12	*	Elon 33	Pilot 0

BOYS BASKETBALL

GIRLS BASKETBALL

BOYS' BASKETBALL

The boys' basketball team was considered by many a disappointment due to their playing ability at times. Coached by Wilkes Lowe, the season ended with a record of fourteen wins and nine losses. The boys started the season without three of last year's team. These were Leon Loy, J. B. Seymour, and Harold Robertson. Robertson joined the squad at mid-season but after a few games was ruled ineligible by the county principals. The team went to the finale before losing their title as county champions which they have held for the past two years. They ended the season with a 26-20 loss to Mayodan in the Invitational Tournament in Winston-Salem.

Following is the record of the games won and lost:

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

The girls' basketball team, coached by Mrs. Earle Hardison, got off to a slow start this year but ended up with a fairly good record of twelve wins and eight losses. For the second straight year, Martha Beera led all scorers with a total of three hundred eighty-eight points in twenty games, for an average of nineteen points per game. This is the highest total in the county and one of the highest in the State.

Following are the total scores of games and individuals:

GIRLS' SOFTBALL TEAM

The 1946 girls' softball team was the first organized softball team Elon ever had. Coached by Mrs. Irane Covington, physical education director for the girls, they won one and lost five games. Their only win was over Graham by a 20-19 score.

Sparked by pitchers, Wilma Robertson and Martha Beers; catcher, Doris Black and outfielder, Mary Alice Watkins, they lost three of their five games by one run. Matane and Ossipee won two games each and Graham won one. The girls are looking forward to a good season this year.

BASEBALL

By the time this article is published, the annual will be out and baseball season will be over. We are writing this about last year's team and about the newcomers to the squad.

Back from last year's squad will be Carroll Leeler, (.423); Ronnie Black (.300); Lester Moore (.286); Nash Parker, Jesse Ray, Harold Robertson, Max Isley, Al Parker, Buddy Fogleman, Jimmy Braxton. Joining the newcomers is Clifford Sharpe, ex pitcher before the war took him from school. The only losses from last year's squad are Leon Loy, catcher, and the late J. B. Seymour, who led the squad in stolen bases with seventeen bases. Harold Robertson, who left school before the season was over, led in home runs with six in five games.

The team split victories with Gibsonville, Ossipee, Sylvan, and Grehem. Lebane won both games by one run in extra innings. Mr. Lowe has taken over the coaching reins in the place of Coach Casey.

ACTIVITIES

4H Club

During the year the 4H club met the first Saturday in every month. A county council meeting was held the third Saturday in the month at Grehem. The first week in March was set aside as National 4H Week, at which time all members wear their club pins signifying their work and time as a 4H member. 4H Sunday is observed every year on the third Sunday in May. At this time 4H members of their respective churches put on a program of some sort. Every member of the club has some sort of project to work on and keep a record of for the year.

TEEN TIMERS DRAMATICS CLUB

During the past year there have been many things discussed during dramatics period. Many types of plays were talked about and kinds of properties were discussed.

Jene McClure gave an interesting talk on makeup; Jimmy McCloud discussed types of lighting; and Yenk Dixon, from the college, talked on properties.

²
THE B CLUB

²
The B Club was organized at the beginning of the school year, 1946-47 under the supervision of Mrs. M. W. Hook.

The officers are: President, Tessie Zimmerman; Vice-President, June Matkins; Secretary, Elizabeth Hoffman; Treasurer, Peg Clepp.

The club then drew up its constitution which includes the club's pledge: "To create and uphold friendship, honor, service, and scholarship at Elon Public School."

Charter members are: Tessie Zimmerman, June Matkins, Elizabeth Hoffman, Gilma Burge, Lucy Whitesell, Peg Clepp, Elna Dorie Huey, Josephine Campbell, Winfred Brown, Betty Peeler, Jeannette Brown, Mary Lou Kernodle, Faye Tickle, Ann Matkins, Betty Lou Curtis, Bettie Crawley, Joanne Martin, Christine Oakley.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club met every Tuesday in the Home Economics room during the past year. The club is supervised by Mrs. McCauley, Home Economics teacher. The enrollment rose from twelve at the beginning of the year to twenty members at the present time. At the beginning of "Rush Week" a tea was given for all new members who were initiated into the club.

The Home Economics Club has studied arrangement of makeup and heirdos and are making things for their hope chest. The club year was highlighted by a formal dinner given in January. Several members of the faculty were present, and special music was rendered by Ronnie Bleck. The ninth and tenth grade girls served as waitresses.
